

How LA:RISE Partners Work Together

LA:RISE is an innovative public-private partnership that unites the City and County of Los Angeles workforce agencies with employment social enterprises to help people overcoming high barriers to employment get jobs, stay employed, and build a better life. The program creates an integrated system that allows all partners to bring their expertise and resources to the table. To learn more about LA:RISE call (888) 4-LARISE (888-452-7473) for referral information.

Who Does What?

Funders

The city and county's workforce departments fund the LA:RISE program.

Program Manager

REDF is contracted by the city and county's workforce departments to serve as the lead program manager and technical assistance provider to LA:RISE partners.

Program Partners

Employment social enterprise partners provide participants with 300 hours of transitional subsidized employment while the workforce partner assists participants in finding outside unsubsidized employment. In the City program, retention providers assist participants in maintaining that outside job once aquired.
